Suspects Taken Back To Kansas

Fred Inm and William P. Inm, convicted of burglary and grand larceny, at Eureka, Greenwood County, Kansas, and sentenced on the burglary charge to not less than five years, nor more than ten years penal servitude, and on the charge of larceny to not less than one year, or more than five years imprisonment, the sentence not to run concurrently, are appearing before Arnold F. George, immigration officer, by whom they will be deported as undesirable citizens. Extradition proceedings had been instituted in the case of both prisoners, but it occurred to Inspector Brankley, that a much simpler method of getting rid of two United States convicts, would be to apply to the immigration department, and he applied to Mr. George.

On Sunday evening, Sheriff T. P. Colvin and Joseph A. Fuller, county attorney of Greenwood County Kansas, arrived in Calgary to take the two Inms back to their native state. The county attorney brought with him attested copies of the convictions and sentences of both men, which will be placed before Mr. George at the hearing before him this afternoon.

Both men after their conviction were released on bail, pending an appeal to the supreme court of the state. They promptly disappeared coming to Alberta early in 1920, and bought land west of Didsbury, where they have engaged in farming operations ever since. The younger man claims that he is a stepson of the elder Inm, and that his real name is William P. Wagner. A daughter, Freda Inm was convicted of perjury, committed in connection with her father's trial and conviction and received a sentence of seven years to the penitentiary, and a young lad, Ed Burrows, was also convicted of perjury and is now serving a term in the state reformatory.

The elder Inm is a German from Prussia and has been 37 years in the United States. The son was born in Lawrence, County Iowa.

The Grasshopper Menace

Newspapers in this district and throughout the whole of Alberta, especially in the southern part of the province, have been giving warnings all spring about the danger of the grasshopper plague. These insects which have been working in from the south have not been noticed in this vicinity in any large numbers until the present year but are now reported as being very numerous. In a short course of time unless drastic measures are taken we will have a repetition of the case in the south where the grasshoppers cleaned up the grain fields as clean as though they had been gone over with a bind.

In many places the farmers have organized and got together a lot of poison which was distributed to all the farmers in the surrounding district. Information as to where to get, or what kind of poison to use can be obtained from the Secretaries of Municipalities, Agricultural Colleges or the government. The poison is laid along the fences around the crop, or on soil where the grasshoppers are known to be abundant. Now is the time to get them, if left much longer they will be at the grain as they have already attacked it in several places and a "witch in time saves nine". Next year they will be twice as big and fifty times as numerous.

WINDMILLS

For economical power you can't beat a windmill. But in buying a mill you not only want to look for a mill with a good reputation, that works right, but you also want to be sure that you can always get repairs for it. That is why we sell the TORONTO and IDEAL mills. They are built right, give good satisfaction, and you can always get a spare part when you need it.

We have just received a substantial reduction in prices on these mills. Also a big reduction on silos.

Farmers Hold Conference

IMPORTANT DISCUSSION ON EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS
RESOLUTIONS OF APPROVAL ARE PASSED

The joint educational committee of the U. F. A. and the E. F. W. A. held its first official conference with the Minister of Education and Officials of the Department in Edmonton yesterday. A very full and satisfactory discussion took place regarding all phases of rural school problems. The efforts of the Department to provide High School opportunity for rural children were strongly approved as was also the general attitude of the Department in defending the autonomous rights of school boards. The members of the Committee made many helpful suggestions and declared their support of any plan that would equalize the educational burden throughout the Province.

After the Conference the members of the Joint Committee met in the Corona Hotel and passed the following resolutions which were forwarded to the Minister of Education:

That we are in favor of the authorized form of teachers' contract with an amendment to clause 5 regarding termination of agreement, making this clause reciprocal and providing, in the event of other party breaking the contract, a minimum penalty equal to one month's salary.

That we favor the principal of the conciliation board.

That we express our approval of the number of official examinations centres.

That we are in favor of plan of procedure now followed in forming consolidated schools as outlined to us by the Minister of Education.

That we are glad to note that the number of official trustees has been materially reduced.

That we are in favor of a system of Provincial taxation for educational purposes.

The report was signed by P. Baker, Ponoka, Chairman; Mrs. S. M. Dawson, Paradise Valley; Secretary Stephen Lutz, Plucker Creek; Henry E. Spencer, Edgerton.

Didsbury Wins, 7-1

In a short snappy game played here between Didsbury and Olds on Tuesday night the home team won 7-1. The game, which is the last on the schedule with Olds, was up to the standard they have been giving. Lately and was played in an honest and twenty five minutes. The fielding was very good. Freeman, Reiber and Studer all making some nice catches in the field, while the whole team were hitting the ball, very few being struck out. Clonens and Keith made up for Gary's battery, Keith striking the entire game.

King Opens Irish Parl.

RELMONT, June 22.—The opening of the northern parliament yesterday by the king who was accompanied by Queen Mary, was carried out with all the pageantry and ceremony with which formal occasions of British sovereigns are surrounded. The king himself wore the uniform of an admiral, with the blue sash of the Order of the Garter across his chest, while the queen, who looked extremely pale and nervous, was in white satin without any insignia of her rank. But a string of pearls was about her neck and large clusters of diamonds and emeralds hung from her collar and brooch.

There were trumpet, in uniforms of gold, who blew fanfares when the royal couple arrived and various officers of state in naval, military and ancient uniforms. The members of the parliament were in dress, but wearing dress' even the poets laying aside their robes for the occasion. The women, who were in a majority in the senate chamber, where the ceremony occurred, seemed to take an even keener interest than men. A real modern note was struck by the king's speech, which he read in a strong clear voice, emphasizing the points which he wished to impress on the audience. The plea for peace and conciliation between the two branches of the Irish race fell on welcome ears, for in no part of Ireland peace more desired than in Ulster, where business has suffered greatly by the strife throughout the country and by the Sinn Féin boycott of Ulster goods. Pointing to the fact that the eyes of the whole empire were on Ireland today, and making an earnest plea for an end to strife among the Irish peoples the king said:

KING OPENS IRISH PARLIAMENT

"I appeal to all Irishmen to pause, stretch out the hand of forbearance, and to join in making for the land which they love a new era of peace, contentment and goodwill."

His hope that the rest of Ireland would follow the north and establish its own parliament or that the two parliaments would decide to have one parliament for the whole country in fact the whole speech was well received, although in accordance with custom there was no applause in the senate chamber.

During the delivery of the king's speech the whole audience remained standing, with eyes fixed on their majesty in golden chairs. Prior to this prayers were said by the primate of Ireland, Anglican; the Presbyterian moderator and the senior Methodist minister, thus all the religions represented in the parliament were recognized.

The luncheon which followed was held in a large hall and several hundred persons sat down. Contrary to expectation, Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, made no pronouncement in proposing the health of the king, and the king did not reply, the toast being received with military honours.

Message from Lloyd George

In his message to premier Craig the British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"The government, parliament and people of northern Ireland have proved their capacity and patriotism by the spirit in which they have discharged the first responsibility of self-government and they have a great opportunity before them. I hope and believe that their influence, and example will assist to set the whole of Ireland on the path of practical co-operation, which alone can lead to the realization of Irish ideals and the security of Irish interests."

The Government of Ireland Act has put Ireland's future in the hands of its own people, provided only that southern Ireland renounces its claim to secession from empire."

The nationalists and Sinn Féiners confined themselves to refraining from all participation in the ceremony.

Municipal Ins.

AMENDMENTS TO THE ACT IN 1920

A number of amendments to the Municipal Insurance Act were passed at the recent Session of the Legislature but one of them affecting the principles of the bill as it was first voted on by the representatives of the Province.

The principal changes made as affecting farmers and municipal corporations are as follows:

All lands that are entirely raw or unbroken will now be withdrawn until application is made for their re-inclusion.

If insured crops are destroyed by any cause other than that the insurance may be cancelled at any time up to the first day of August.

The insurance period has been extended and all growing crops are now insured until the thirtieth day of September.

If claim for damage is not made within thirty days of the date of damage the insured may be required to furnish proof of loss and it not made previous to the first day of November the claim shall not be allowed.

In the case of lands that are leased and have not been withdrawn, the lessee may make a crop report which may be accepted by the municipal secretary as correct.

All applications whether for insurance from farmers outside the Municipal Insurance Act or for re-inclusion of lands that have been withdrawn or to cancel the amount of insurance per acre must be made to the municipal secretary. It is his duty to forward the application to the Board immediately, but the application is not considered to be effective until it has been received by the Board at Calgary.

The crop report of the municipal district made by the municipal secretary to the Board at it is a correct copy of the crop reports received and otherwise ascertained by him. "shall for the purposes of taxation and the payment of indemnity be deemed to be correct."

A section has been added with provisions, similar to those of the Fire Insurance Act giving authority to the owner, if he finds it necessary to seize and sell enough of the lessee's share of the crop to pay the lessee's proper share of the bad tax.

Man's Greatest Asset

The universal membership campaign recently conducted by the Red Cross Society throughout Canada had for its object the arousing of the people to the need and of greater personal interest in the matter of health. It was not a knowledge to raise money, but a demonstration of will and organized effort to secure an active and intelligent public interest in measures for the prevention of disease, it being realized that an ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. The average man, woman and child goes from head to toe physical well-being until they are afflicted with some ailment and then there is a hurried call for a doctor.

That there is need for a great awakening on the part of the public in regard to matters of personal hygiene and public health was demonstrated by the extended medical examination of men for military services during the war years, but, standing as were the disclosures from those examinations, even more staggering are some recent figures and opinion contained in an article in The Journal of Health and Sanitation, written by Dr. J. H. Kellogg, president of the famous Battle Creek Sanatorium.

There is more here sometimes did not and utterly disappeared and Dr. Kellogg is of the opinion that this may happen to the whole human family if we continue to live under what he considers present unnatural conditions. Mr. Kellogg is a very old-fashioned animal trying to live in a new-fashioned way, is a man who no animal ever before adventured, and so unaccustomed and ill-adapted to his constitution and his requirements as to make his ultimate inevitable. Man is by nature an apartment dweller. But the business and professional man, incarcerated behind the doors of his offices, with their assistants, die years before their time, and, no the average, twenty years sooner than the farmer whose vacation keeps him in the open.

Present-day habits and methods of living are held accountable for the physical deterioration of the race, and for the prevalence of disease which are carrying off people by the millions. According to Dr. Kellogg, the United States loses from its population of 100,000,000 by death 1,500,000 people every year, while 3,000,000 people are sick all the time. In other words, one-fifth of the population are inefficient or lost. He estimates that an average of seven days are lost from labor by sickness every year. Tuberculosis is gaining ground, and kills one out of every ten of the population. Cancer kills one in twenty. Other maladies are rapidly gaining ground. In England and Wales the disease is increasing twice as fast as the war, and in France ten times as fast. Coupled with these alarming symptoms, there is the serious fact that the birth rate in nearly all civilized countries is rapidly declining.

Dr. MacNeill, superintendent of the Mental Hospital at Battledore, Sask., made the statement recently in a public address at Regina that at the present rate of increase of mentally deficient people there would not be enough mentally efficient people to look after them fifty years hence.

In support of his contention that present habits and methods of living are responsible for existing conditions, Dr. Kellogg draws attention to one of the interesting lessons from the war, namely, the notable lowering of the death rate in several countries. In Denmark the death rate fell 35 per cent, during the war, and in the United States, the Danish food controller, Dr. Knudsen, states that the reason for this was the fact that the Danes were eating less meat and more vegetables. In Germany, too, diabetes has practically disappeared from the same cause, and goat, formerly very common, is now unknown.

Good health is the greatest asset any person can possess. Wealth is of little value to a man if he does not possess good health so that he may enjoy it. Without health no one can get much pleasure out of life. Lacking health no person can be wholly efficient. If health is waste. Yet the best medical experts agree that, by taking proper precautions, there is little chance of suffering from that many diseases which now number their victims by the millions could be readily escaped.

Health studies and health conditions must be given first place and foremost attention in our public schools. People must be made to understand that soundness of body is fundamentally essential in business, art, literature, politics and education, as well as in warfare, sports and industry. By creating an enthusiasm for health promotion and physical perfection a long step has been taken toward the realization of that better state for all people towards which the world is steadily moving. A popular, national movement for Good Health is imperative. Governments can do much, but the most essential is an aroused and active interest on the part of every individual citizen. The possession of health is the only real, lasting and truly national policy for any country.

Japs Plan To Raft Timber From B. C.

Think Davis Structure Will Stand Trans-Pacific Passage

A Japanese firm proposes to make another attempt to raft timber from British Columbia to Japan. They believe that the Davis raft structure, of which the outside rows of logs are laced with cable, can be made to stand the trans-Pacific passage. The first raft will leave this coast about August. It will have a superstructure of piled logs, strongly laced. Hitherto rafted logs have not withstood long sea journeys, except one which was taken from San Francisco to China about twenty years ago. Favored by calm seas the raft was safely landed. The Chinese, however, mistook its logs, took ten years to cut up this boom, using long, hand rip saws to make the boards.

One of the most effective vermifuges on the market is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the stomach and bowels of worms, but will prove a very considerable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in their composition that will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full assurance that they will utterly destroy all worms.

Canada's Huge Wheat Area

Prairie Provinces Have More Than Ninety Per Cent. of the Wheat Area

The total area sown to wheat this season in the Dominion of Canada is estimated at 18,654,100 acres, an increase of half a million acres over the 1920 area, constituting a new record for this grain. Seven hundred and nine thousand one hundred acres of this is seeded to fall wheat, leaving 17,945,000 to be sown this spring. The prairie provinces have more than ninety per cent. of the Dominion's wheat acreage, with 17,018,900 acres. This shows an increase of 577,000 acres over the previous year.

Crossing Stock With An Automobile.

If a motorist runs down a pig it is sure to be a blooded Berkshire, remarks the Boston correspondent. Every chicken slaughtered is a pedigree bird worth $10 to $50. A yellow barnyard cur is a wire-haired ferret. A calf is always of Galloway or Guernsey blood—in fact, nothing seems to improve stock like crossing it with an automobile.

Fiction is less strange than the truth because we miss it often.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. W. Beesley, Millie Reche, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past six months and would not be without them. I used them for indigestion and teething and my baby cutting his teeth without any trouble whatever. I can highly recommend the Tablets to other mothers." What Mrs. Beesley says thousands of other mothers say. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, and soothe the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and making teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Equinoctial" A Myth.

That the equinoctial storm is a myth is demonstrated by an accurate co-operative observer of the United States Weather Bureau, says the Scientific American. This popular belief is probably the result of teaching handed down from father to son. Old weather savers are very hard to eliminate.

Manitoba Free Press Crop Report. The Manitoba Free Press crop report, published June 7th, states that crop conditions are, if anything, more favorable than at May 17th. ## New Camera's Great Range

Can Photograph From Height Where Airplane Is Invisible.

Scientists of the United States Bureau of Standards revealed the details of a new photographic process but recently perfected. The discovery is expected to be of tremendous military value to the air service, as well as to have incalculable scientific and commercial application. It will give to the eye of the camera power which nature has never endowed to the human eye, for it will be possible for airplanes to make photographs from heights so great that the planes themselves will be invisible from the earth, and to penetrate haze that the human eye cannot pierce.

Calgary Exhibition

In the program which will be presented at the 1921 Calgary Exhibition to be held June 26th to July 8th, the management considers it has the highest class and most entertaining features that have ever been secured for the Calgary Exhibition.

An attraction which will undoubtedly be the most popular for many years is the massed Choir of 200 voices, composed of the five Calgary choirs which competed in the recent Alberta Musical Festival. The choral work at this Festival was so good that one of the adjudicators, Dr. W. H. Hall, professor of choral singing at Columbia University, New York, said "the choral work at this Festival has received the highest mark I have ever heard in choral work on this continent."

A feature of the exhibition will be given on a evening by the massed choir, accompanied by a thirty piece orchestra, which will include solos and other special numbers in addition to the choral numbers.

Another feature which will delight all exhibition patrons, young and old, will be the fireworks. A remarkable display of aerial fireworks will be given and in addition a reproduction of the naval battle at Dover. This will be given each evening following the regular platform program which in itself would constitute a wonderful evening's entertainment.

The live stock and industrial exhibits this year promise to be exceptionally good, and the prospects are particularly bright for the best all round exhibition that has ever been held in Calgary.

Military Offence

It has again been brought to the attention of the Militia Authorities that there are numerous cases of civilians wearing, without authority, Military uniform, or portions of Military uniform, mainly greatcoats, and instructions as to what action should be taken in the circumstances have been issued.

The persons who, without authority, wear uniform or portions thereof come within two main classes, viz:—(a) Discharged soldiers, who have been permitted to retain their uniform on discharge, and persons who have purchased from such discharged soldiers or other individuals, articles of uniform with the buttons and badges remaining thereon; and

(b) Members of Non-Permanent Active Militia Units who, when not attending drill, or going to or from drill, or on other occasions, not designated in the Militia Act and the regulations made thereunder, wear their greatcoats, breeches, etc., which have been issued to them.

It is considered that steps should now be taken to prevent as much as possible the unauthorized wearing of uniform, or articles of clothing so nearly similar to Military uniform as are likely to be mistaken therefor.

The Criminal Code (R. S. C. Chap. 146) was amended by the Statutes of 1920 (16 and 17 Geo. V. Chap. 45). Section 10 of this Chapter adds a new section to the Criminal Code, viz 457 (a) This amendment provides in brief, that any person who, without lawful authority, wears any uniform of His Majesty's Naval, Land and Air Forces, or any uniform which is so similar to the uniform of the said Forces as to be likely to be mistaken therefor, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $300.00, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months, or to both fine and imprisonment.

This section will be invoked as authority for proceeding in the above-mentioned cases, but before any proceedings are so instituted against persons who commit the above mentioned offence, final warnings are being issued throughout the District, warning all concerned that the unauthorized wearing of any uniform of H. M. Naval, Land or Air Forces, or of any uniform so similar as to be mistaken therefor, constitutes an offence under the Criminal Code, and that persons committing such offence, will render themselves liable to prosecution, and further, that all civilians who wear greatcoats, tunics, etc., must have the buttons and badges removed, thereby rendering them less likely to be mistaken for military uniform.

A Source of Power

The steam and gasoline engines represent the most powerful and steady source of power that we have today. The steam or gasoline is concentrated in a confined space which gives it this power. Do you ever consider this in regard to advertising?

The power that is contained in space occupied by an ad. in the Pioneer has a pulling power that is expended on hundreds of readers that you cannot begin to reach by word of mouth which is like the old way of pulling a wagon by oxen or getting power from the old fashioned water-wheel.

Said That Premier Meighen Will Use His Influence to Have Treaty Denounced.

Premier Hughes, of Australia, in interpreting the public sentiment of his country, will urge renewal, but Premier Meighen is also certain to throw the whole weight of his influence toward having the treaty denounced. The Canadian premier was willing to support a renewal of the Alliance providing it could be shown that such renewal was necessary to British interests, but it has become clearer that no vital empire interest is involved and that the situation here, both in Government circles and in the press, against the treaty, has been practically determined so far against renewal to the utmost of his power.

HEART SO BAD

When the heart becomes weak and the nerves unstrung, it is impossible for a woman to look after her household or social duties. The least little exertion or excitement leaves her in an exhausted condition, and not fit to do anything.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, you will be wise if you take a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Ms. Daniel Breganzon, Loganville, N.S., writes: "I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years. I am writing to tell you what our great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

Would Be Serious Matter

Invalidation of Grain Act Would Make Chaos in Canada.

Moore JAW.—A chaotic condition of affairs would exist in the country should the Canada Grain Act be found ultra vires, is the opinion expressed by Justice Hyslopman, chairman of the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission. In discussing the legal status of the commission and the Grain Act, His Lordship pointed out that the situation would be similar to that which would exist should the Temperance Act be found unconstitutional. In such event, any person who wished to would be able to peddle whiskey without interference from public law. If the Canada Grain Act was found to be ultra vires of Parliament, this condition would obtain in the grain business. His Lordship pointed out that the Government is possibly the most reluctant authority which had confronted Canada for a long time.

I was managing the Fairford Post of the Hudson's Bay Company in the winter of 1874-5 and was fortunate enough to own a splendid train of dogs that I have mentioned in former sketches. Mr. Isaacs Cowie at Manitoba House was my immediate chief and at his request I took a young sleigh dog to train with my own as these had a peculiarly fast shuffling gait which covered the ground in an amazing way.

I had occasion to visit Manitoba House, or the Post as it was commonly called, and started early on morning in the dead of winter, litching up the strange dog with my own. As I was taking a cariole and traveling light, I intended riding all the way and dressed very warmly accord-ably. My dogs were not at all pleased with the interpoler and quite often would give him a sly nip behind the ear. I was not at all blind, to which he would naturally retaliate, and this made the train go even at a faster pace than usual. When we were about half way to Fairford and well on towards the centre of the frozen lake, when feeling tired and cramped I called a halt; and got out of the carole for a few minutes to stomp about and bring the circulation back. Turning my back on the dogs for a minute I heard a clashing of metal and off they went. Fortunately in the right direction. Running at top speed, I managed to keep near them for several miles, but annoyed with disunity they were gradually coming ground and I was about too sweating profusely, as I had fastened my only clothes on for a dog-runner, and then taking off my heavy coat and trousers along at a steady pace. But gradually the train drew further and further away until lost to sight, and then I had only the mules of their charge to follow. I had no drink water for a grundle, and even the gradually increasing heat, as some light snow was falling. My hard running at the start had become too much and then it was a long time since breakfast and naturally all my strength was fast fading. I began to feel very much exhausted, and the overpowering desire to rest at any cost came over me. Placing my cap on the ice I lay down on my back and stretched out my arms. Myself and I rested for half an hour, but I could have fast asleep for ten minutes, but I found my hands had hardened something and on holding it to my sleepy eyes, to and behold, it was a little frozen mouse, one of the kind that live long years. Goodness knows how far from shore it had come, at least twelve miles from the shore, but on gazing at him a sudden conviction can over me that if I once fell asleep I would be like the mouse in a few hours—frozen stiff. With this thought in my mind, I picked up my heavy coat, muffled and mended the ice and started for the

| Narrows at a steady trot.

Provisionally for me an enterprising Yankee had built a log cabin right in the centre of the right-of-way of the old Canadian Pacific location where, as old-timers will remember, had decided on this route. This cabin I struck just about sundown and I was glad to get in, not least during the day, the evening and the morning and now chills had come on and I felt like lead. My hands were too numb to rap at the door, so I ran against it, and on its opening, collapsed on the floor. Like all pioneers he was extremely hospitable, and taking off my outer clothes placed me in a warm bed, rubbed my limbs and gave me small doses of whiskey and water. In a short time I was able to get up, and

Next morning I was up before the Post brought early hoping to find the dogs there, but no signs of them. We at once sent out a search party, and there was some valuable fluff at the back of the caribou, a silver fox amongst them, but the searches resulted in nothing. The morning was a lack. Several dogs chipped and I was disconsolate, as parties had been out daily but could find no trace of the dogs. One evening as I was looking out over the lake, I saw a dog-train coming from the north—coming at a fast rate and calling "Cowie to bring in the dogs." So we soon decided they were the flying dogs, but as they reached the landing there were only four, the stranger having disappeared.

A young Indian was riding on the carload and told the following story: "I was out on the trail with a line of wolf traps and on getting near the last one on the east side of the lake, noted some large animals walking round it. When they caught sight of me they came tearing in great bunches. I saw a lot of tracks of wolves. I prepared to defend myself with an axe (the only weapon I carried). But when I saw they were dogs I then knew these were the traps that had run away from me. I then saw a pack of wolves and I saw me and licked my face and hands. On going up to the carload I found Mr. Cowie's dog in my trap with a solidly frozen foot and the harness was broken. So, as he would be of no further use, I kicked him on the head for wolf bait."

On examining the dog harness, I noted that three of the belly bands were chewed in half, and on his telling this I at once realized what had happened. Nervo, my second dog, was a slim, thin haired creature with a very small head and could get out of his traces at any time by simply slipping the collar over his head. Then he apparently had set to work and released his brothers one by one, leaving the unfortunate stragglers to his own device.

London.—Great Britain, in a further communication to France on the Silesian question delivered through Lord Hardinge, British ambassador to France, calls attention to co-operate in the restoration of order in Silesia, and declares that the lack of concerted action is producing an increasingly serious situation. Great Britain suggests that all the British troops in Silesia be placed under British command which would involve the relinquishment of French military control at some points. It is explained that this would have the effect of freeing more British forces for independent action.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mrs. Allie Moon, of Cremona, is spending a month in town with Mrs. Nelson.

Mrs. McMillan and two children, of Calgary, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Crossland.

The Western Mutual reports that Fire Insurance is good throughout the country these days.

Ed. Johnson has things going full swing in his new barber shop and billiard room in the Leuzler Block.

Mr. Bill Farrington was a business visitor in Calgary during the fore part of the week, returning on Wednesday.

Mrs. Donald Rogers, of High River, departed for her home Monday, after a two weeks visit with her friend Mrs. Nelson.

Miss Mae Stader who has been taking up music in Calgary, in the Royal Academy of Music, has passed examinations in both the Cello and Piano.

Messers Lowrie, Reiber and Coates have left for a weeks fishing trip to the west. There will probably be some good fish stories when they come back.

On Sunday evening, June 26th, at the Evangelical Church the pastor will preach a sermon on the question, "Did God Create Men and Women Morally Equal?"

Mr. Bill Hilliard took very sudden leave on Tuesday afternoon when he hit for Edmonton. He didn't tell us what he was going to do but we've got an old shag ready for him when he comes back.

Mr. M. Mecklenburg, the eye specialist, who has been on a trip to the States and eastern Canada, has now returned and will make his first business trip here on Monday the 27th. Call at the Rosebud Hotel.

The Home Insurance are now giving insurance against frost, drought, insects and rust. This is a new departure in the insurance line as heretofore Companies have kept clear of these risks. Mr. Parker Reed is a local agent.

Mrs. Rebecca Peck left for Calgary with Mrs. A. Peck on June 2nd. Mrs. A. Peck returned after spending a week with her mother, while Mrs. R. Peck has gone on to Vancouver where she will spend a few months visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Reed and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pearson are making an extended motor trip to the south country, inspecting the agencies of the Western Mutual and taking in the sights. They intend visiting the big Temple at Cardston.

The crops in this district are making a fine showing these days. To the west of town there has been a little more moisture and crops there are slightly better than east, however, if things keep looking up there will be a good harvest here this year.

Mr. A. Campbell was a visitor in Taber and the south country lately and reports that the crops in that district are in a very promising condition. Rye is up as high as the fence posts and wheat is doing fine. There has been considerable rain there this year and if it keeps up they will get a bumper crop, which is much to be hoped for.

Two of our prominent young men, Mr. James Halton and Mr. Orrville Weber of the Union Bank staff, are about to leave us following the path of duty. Mr. Halton has been in the service of the bank here for the past two years, having been transferred from the branch in Pincher Creek where his home is, and has made many friends while in this vicinity. He has been notified of his transfer to the Carstairs branch. Mr. Weber is also on the way to promotion and has been transferred to the Ledger at Airdrie. They are both leaving on the first of July.

The U. F. A. service which was held in the Opera House last Sunday was well attended. The choir, being a mixed choir, combining the Evangelical and Presbyterians rendered an anthem in a very pleasing manner. Rev. Baker, Vice-President of the U. F. A. who preached the sermon, while inclined to give more of a U. F. A. lecture than a sermon, was nevertheless very good.
